

I do not support the removal of the Morse code requirement in the amateur radio service in the United States.

The Morse code requirement is a viable and usable means for amateurs to communicate.

Other service are just that, other services, not amateur radio.

Morse code is the backbone of this service, period.

Retain the requirement.